1. On the Occasion of 34th Anniversary of Army Welfare Education Society (AWES) on 29 Apr 2017, I convey my good wishes and felicitations to the faculty, staff and students associated with AWES. It is heartening to see AWES reaching out to the environment and providing "Quality Education" to the wards of all ranks.

2. I am happy to note that sound value system coupled with character building is being imbibed in our Schools and Colleges. Our results and accomplishments in the field of academics, sports and co-scholastic areas is testimony of the same. My compliments to all the educators for providing impetus for the holistic growth and development of the children. I appreciate the continuous support being rendered by the Formations in providing amenities, modern infrastructure and conducive environment for learning. Education being a dynamic and lifelong process, I exhort all the stakeholders to contribute their best for the growth of AWES and keep abreast with latest developments.

"Well done, keep striving for the Best"
